PREPARING ADVERTISING

Board of Trade Getting Together. Its Matter for Booklets.

The Board of Trade is rapidly getting into shape the matter which is to go into the new pamphlets and booklets which the board is getting out for distribution in the valley. Various localities and different lines of business in the county are to be treated by persons best able to deal with them, and with profuse illustrations, the booklets will doubtless rival the literature gotten out by California and Colorado reports.

The new policy of the board of trade in putting out its best efforts to secure immigrants and the interest of eastern capital, rather than devoting most of its work to attracting health seekers, is apparently the most popular movement the organization has ever made. In the advertising matter now being prepared but comparatively little space is being devoted to the Salt River valley as a health resort. The board believes that one permanent settler, who will come here to invest his money and work for his own interests and those of the community, is worth a dozen invalids who come for a few months. To be sure, the board is not neglecting the advertisement of the magnificent climate of this valley, and indeed a small pamphlet will be gotten out to describe that purpose; but some seekers and investors are the principal persons whom it is desired to acquaint with the information of the vast resources of the valley of the Salt.

Many persons who are going east and north are equipping themselves with booklets, which the board furnishes to all who desire them, giving full information of Phoenix and the Salt River valley.

WHERE DID WOODBRIDGE LIVE?

There Can be no Earthly Doubt Where He Died.

A very interesting matter came up in probate court yesterday, the hearing of the petition for Lloy A. Christy for letters of administration on the estate of Jared Woodbridge, who died in this city recently. The petition is opposed by Babbitt Bros. of Flagstaff, creditors of Woodbridge, and by Isaac M. Hollister of Connecticut, a cousin and partner of Woodbridge in the sheep raising business. The opponents, represented by Mr. E. R. Ellingwood, raised a question of jurisdiction, which hangs altogether on the determination of the place of residence of Woodbridge when he died—not a matter of easy settlement. Woodbridge engaged in sheep raising in Coconino county fourteen years ago and followed it with great success. Like many of the other northern flock masters he brought his flocks down into the Salt River valley to winter. He began this southern migration three years ago and came for the last time last fall. He was then suffering from Bright's disease of the kidneys, and believing he would not recover, he sold his sheep. The proceeds amounting to about $30,000, were deposited in the Valley bank.

The petition for the appointment of Mr. Christy as administrator was signed by a half dozen creditors in small amounts and by the sister of Woodbridge, a Mrs. Gorman of Nebraska. The dying sheep man had been desirous of making a will for some time before his death, and he was frequently visited by an attorney, for whom he had sent, for that purpose. Though he was always of sound mind he was always found to be so weak, or else in such great pain, that the execution of the will was deferred to some other time. Before reaching that indefinite time Woodbridge died intestate.

The opponents contend that the home of Woodbridge, if he had any, was in Coconino county; that though he had spent some little time in Phoenix every winter, he did only as drover of the northern sheep men had done, who would acknowledge that their homes were elsewhere; that death does not establish one's residence in the place where he died.

The opponents, on the other hand, contend that a bachelor in the sheep raising business has no other home than the abiding places of his flocks, and they quoted a quite common expression by herders on sheep ranges who are coming into a new country: "Well here we are; home again!"

Judge Langston has taken the matter under advisement. In the estate of Edward Naegle, there was an order of sale of real estate. In the matter of the estate of Lister G. Hart, the hearing of the petition of E. A. Spaulding for letters of administration, was continued to June 20, a second petition for himself having been filed by J. F. Ross.

ARIZONA AND NEW MEXICO

Remarkable Development Shown by Census Report.

A preliminary report on the manufacturing industries of the territories of Arizona, Indian Territory, New Mexico and Oklahoma has been announced by the census bureau.

It shows for Arizona 214 establishments, with a combined capital of $30,157,000, an average of $288 wage earners; total wages, $2,569,065; miscellaneous expenses, $45,272; cost of material, $3,464,410; value of products, including custom work and repairing, $21,315,189. These figures for 1900 include nine establishments engaged in copper smelting and refining (not reported in 1890), with a capital of $7,265,550, and 1649 wage earners; $1,274,739, total wages; $265,548, miscellaneous expenses; $6,279,884, cost of materials, and $17,286,547, value of products. There were seventy-eight establishments in 1890, with $616,029 capital; 455 wage earners, with aggregate wages of $392,146. The value of products was $947,347.

DISTRICT COURT

Verdict in the Bennett-Electric Light Case

Justice Luther Kallenbach, E. G. Carruthers and Henry Haupt of Gila Bend, arrived in the city yesterday morning to attend the trial of the damage suit of Haupt against the county. The plaintiff was the owner of a house at Gila Bend, said to be infected by diphtheria germs. It was destroyed by the order of Dr. W. L. Woodruff, the county health officer. Haupt brought suit against the county for $500.

The jury in the case of Thomas D. Bennett vs. the Phoenix Electric Light Company, for damages on account of the destruction of the plaintiff's house by a lightning stroke, alleged to have been transmitted over one of the defendant's wires, yesterday morning returned a verdict for the plaintiff of $1,650, after having had the case under consideration since early on Saturday afternoon. Suit was brought for $5,000. It was proved that a loss amounting to $3,000 had been sustained, and that it had been saved by $2,000 insurance.

The time of the court was occupied yesterday with the trial of the appealed case of Redwill vs. Stevens.

SOUTHERN COAL OPERATORS.

Birmingham, Ala., June 10.—The Coal Operators' association of Alabama met here today to consider the matter of a new wage scale with the coal miners for the year commencing July 1. The miners will meet next week and the joint conference of operators and miners will be held two weeks hence for the final adjustment of the matters in dispute. Indications point to the renewal substantially of the present contract, though the miners are considering the question of demanding an eight-hour day and semi-monthly pay days.

HALF PHILANTHROPIC.—George H. Connolly, who is engaged in the business of raising watermelons, yesterday took measures to preserve his crop and bring it to a profitable maturity, and at the same time prevent the dissemination of cholera morbus among the small boys, who have shown a disposition to gorge themselves with the half-ripe fruit. One of them has been arrested and will have a hearing today in Justice Burnett's court.

RECORDERS COURT.—There were two plain, everyday drunks in the recorder's court yesterday and they were given the usual three dollar fine. One sleeping drunk produced $1.00, another $5, he having put the officers to the expense of hiring a hack for his transportation. The only other case was that of P. Q. Robbins, who was charged with dumping filth and debris on a vacant lot. This turned out to be a case of great importance, as Mr. Robbins seemed to be fighting for principle rather than the settlement of this particular case. He conducted his own defense and was introduced behind a long array of legal decisions and written and unwritten laws, from the supreme court down to the city ordinance. He maintained that he was a dirt merchant, that a part of his business was to buy and sell dirt and to had a right to store his extra supply pending a rise in the market price of the demand for his goods. He placed Mr. E. J. Bennett, agent for the lot, on the stand to prove that he had authority to dump the dirt there. Then he placed Dr. Stroud and Dr. Duffield on the stand to prove that the dirt was not filth or debris, but good, clean, wholesome dirt that any one could take into his family without spreading contagion. After this was all over the recorder ruled that the dirt was a nuisance, and had been so declared by the city council and in accordance with that fact directed him to remove it. The defendant gave notice of an appeal to the district court and the recorder told him to perfect his appeal bond in the sum of $300 and prepare for action.
